Most of the code in this supplement folder is mostly experimental code and some stuff we did not end up using. We have lost track of what each test code does what and are not sure if some of them even work. :)